INTELLIGENT VISIBILITY, INC. ACHIEVES CISCO PREMIER CERTIFICATION

Greensboro, NC - Intelligent Visibility, Inc. (IVI) has been certified as a Cisco Premier Certified Partner Partner by achieving all sales, engineering, and support requirements by Cisco Systems, Inc.

"IVI has incorporated agile methodologies to solve customer challenges in unique ways with Cisco's advanced technology solutions. The combination of our team's software development, architectural design, and solution implementation capabilities into a single service offering has set us apart from traditional resellers. It empowers us to use Cisco solutions in ways that are uniquely valuable to each customer and go beyond their default out-of-the-box capabilities. We feel that strong APIs are table-stakes for good technical solutions today as infrastructure moves to being more software-driven, and Cisco has embraced this transition well. They have done a good job of joining the development and infrastructure engineering communities together, and transitioning their products to be software-controlled. We're excited about the expanded partnership.", says Intelligent Visibility's CTO Richard Collins..

The Cisco Premier Certification identifies partners who have earned one of several specific Cisco specializations and have the capabilities to transform customers' hybrid IT.
